

SANTA ANA POLICE DEPARTMENT

NEWS RELEASE

Contact: Cpl. Jose Gonzalez
(714) 245-8715

SAPD Urges Residents to Vaccinate Pets

What: Santa Ana Police Animal Services reports that there has been a large influx of Parvo infected dogs at veterinary offices and at the shelter. Parvo is a viral disease that attacks the lining of the digestive system of dogs. Pet owners, especially those with puppies, should have their dogs vaccinated to prevent the spread of infection. Puppies usually do not survive Parvo. However, those pets that do survive generally incur large vet bills.

Prevention is the key to avoiding costly vet bills and will allow pets to maintain a healthy life. Vet Care Vaccination Clinic offers low cost vaccination clinics and will offer additional dates to prevent the spread of this virus.

When: Clinics offered every 2nd and 4th Sunday, from 1:30 p.m. to 3 p.m.
Additional vaccination dates include:
September 18 and 25, 2007
6 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Where: Civic Center building 28, near the new parking structure
Enter on Santa Ana Boulevard

For additional information, contact the PIO, Cpl. Jose Gonzalez, at 714-245-8715.

###